

Bond's lot in Heber, and was followed by Snyder and Company from Wanship, who used William Davidson's cabin. William Jennings of Salt Lake City took over the trade when Snyder and Company withdrew a year or two later. He hired John Davis as his clerk. Finally John Witt of Heber began merchandising in much the same manner.

Mark Jeffs